

Columbia Basin Watershed Network

Conference Wrap-Up

A Celebration of Columbia Basin Watersheds

Find out more about our watershed conferences held in Invermere and Nakusp.

Join the Network!

Membership in the Watershed Network is free so join now. You will be able to network with others interested and active in watershed issues. Our membership is diverse and growing!

Share Your News & Events

Let us help you network by sharing your news, events or resources with other members of the watershed network. We can help spread the word for you.

Contact us for more info.

The Canadian Columbia River Forum launches new website. www.ccrf.ca. Find out more about this multi-agency forum focused on transboundary water issues.

Canadian Columbia River Forum

Send Us Your Photos

Send us photos of local watersheds and we will post them on our gallery.

Gallery

Send us photos

Unsubscribe

Welcome to the Columbia Basin Watershed Network – our first e-newsletter issue.

What is the Watershed Network?

We coordinate and facilitate networking, capacity building and information sharing to ensure healthy functioning ecosystems and communities in the Canadian Columbia River Basin.

Water Survey

We want your input!

The University of British Columbia is developing an online course on water issues. The survey is designed to get input from a range of stakeholders living in the Columbia Basin on their priority water issues. The target audience for the course is professionals, NGOs and community groups looking to upgrade their skills.

Participants are being asked to fill out a short 3 page survey which takes about 1/2 hour to complete (the same survey used in the recent Columbia Basin Watershed Network workshops).

Click here to fill out the survey!

Steering Committee Membership

We invite you to submit an application to be considered for membership in a 7 to 9 member STEERING COMMITTEE of individuals who bring multiple perspectives, depth of knowledge and expertise, and a willingness to collaborate in meeting the Columbia Basin Watershed Network's strategic framework and priorities.

The Steering Committee will include a representative of Columbia Basin Trust Water Initiatives, the Columbia Basin Watershed Network Coordinator, and up to 7 individuals who reside in the Columbia Basin. Steering committee members will be expected to participate in bimonthly meetings or teleconferences.

For more information on the Steering Committee application process, go to www.cbwn.ca or call 1-800-505-8998.

The CBWN is a water stewardship initiative funded by Columbia Basin Trust.

COLUMBIA BASIN TRUST
a legacy for the people